A survey was conducted among the students of Standard X in Ipa. The question asked was, "Which life skills would teenagers prefer to learn?" The results are as follows: a majority of the students were keen on learning how to manage money, whereas a quarter were interested in administering basic first aid. Another quarter chose communicating effectively as their answer, and a very few chose to learn how to use basic household tools.

2½ In my opinion, it is important to learn how to communicate effectively. In today's world, communication is ~~key~~ a major key to being independent. Being introverted isn't much of an issue, but we need to learn to talk at times and stand up for ourselves and make decisions of our own. Subject: An urgent need for a children's library

Sir/Madam,

I am writing this letter to bring to your attention the need of the hour: a children's library.

Reading is essential for various things in life. It gives us knowledge, understanding and creativity! And who could be more creative than the little children of our society? These children are our future and we need to give them a concrete foundation by encouraging them to read as much as they can. Their innate love for learning begins with the little fairytales and folklore they indulge in. The old village hall has been abandoned ever since the new one was constructed, perhaps the old hall could be converted into a library? The area around it is always bustling with activity and there's no doubt children will be attracted to the library.

Kindly consider my request and ensure that a

Life is Beautiful with my family

During times of troubled waters, my family is the one who stands besides me and helps me endure whatever life sends my way. We have our ups and downs but what matters is looking past these barriers and accepting each other as we ~~are~~ are.

When I'm with my family, a rainy day isn't so gloomy anymore. We're wholesome together, each of us unique in our own ways. They're my better half and I'll always be grateful to them. There are days where I'm at my lowest and have no motivation ~~to~~ to function like I always do, and on these days it's my family that cheers me up. Life doesn't always go our way, we have arguments and differences, but at the end of the day we put it all in the past and look towards a brighter future.

It's my family that encourages me to never give up, to keep trying and trying no matter how many times I fail. Then there's my family's humor that exceeds everyone else's. They can make someone laugh till their ~~to~~ tummy aches and you have ^{no} choice but to endure more.

It's irrefutable, really. How we all differ from each other in terms of personality but ~~when~~ we're together we're all the same.

In conclusion, nothing matters more to me than my family. I'll love them for as long as I can and even long after they're gone. I don't
